County Appropriates Funds For Road From The City Into Angeles Forest

Opens Up Section Reached Now Only By Hikers, With Short Cut To Desert

An initial appropriation of $135,000 was made by the County Supervisors this week for the immediate construction of a high gear road from Sierra Madre into the Angeles forest, to be known as the Santa Anita Canyon Highway.

It will at once open up the beautiful mountain resort country that was so popular with Southern Californians before roads were built into the San Bernardino mountains and that is accessible only by the picturesque trails either by hikers or packers. Ultimately it will connect with new roads now being constructed through the mountains and give a direct short route from the San Gabriel Valley over the mountains to Palmdale and the Mojave desert.

The highway will form a loop beginning at Grand View and Santa Anita (Double Drive) avenues through the mountains, terminating with the present road in the Arroyo Seco at Pasadena.

A hundred foot right of way has been acquired from the Oakwood Syndicate, Lannan and Sartori estates winding two and one half miles through the picturesque foothills making a direct connection with the present road at the Santa Anita Dam.

From the dam the highway will continue over a 60 foot right of way through the Angeles National Forest making accessible to motorists hundreds of thousands of acres of natural park which at present are only visited by mountaineers.

By making it easier and quicker to get fire fighters and equipment to brush and cabin fires the new road will afford protection to miles of valuable water sheds which supply Sierra Madre's water system.

The road bed is to be 20 feet in width where cuts in the sides of the mountain are made and 24 feet where it passes over fills. It will not exceed seven per cent at any point, making a "high-gear" highway.

The highway will follow along the west bank of the canyon to a point below Camp First Water, where, later, it will bend west around a shoulder of the mountain into Winter Creek and will cross Winter Creek a mile above Robert's Camp. From Winter Creek the route continues north around Mt. Zion to a small flat a quarter of a mile west of Fern Lodge. From the Zion flat it will proceed around the mountain, giving a beautiful view of the Santa Anita stream with its magnificent alders, to a point where it crosses the canyon a short distance below Sturtevant Camp.

From this point Santa Anita Highway will continue northeast and cross the "hog-back" about a mile and a half east of Newcomb's Pass and continue on into the West Fork of the San Gabriel. It is intended that it shall cross the West Fork near the ranger station at the mouth of Short Cut Canyon and follow up the canyon and connect with the Mt. Wilson-Buckhorn road at Short Cut Canyon Divide.

From the divide motorists may continue around the loop through the Arroyo Seco to Pasadena or take the right hand road on through the National Forest and Game Reserve to Acton, Palmdale, Antelope Valley and the desert.

The present road leading up the Santa Anita was built for trucking materials and equipment used in the construction of the dam and has never been opened to the public.

Legion's Visitors Get Thrill Of Entering Dugout On Firing Line To See Many Interesting Relics

"The entrance to Legion headquarters here in this City Hall basement," said Commander Vincent Fleming to a "NEWS" man, is designed to give the thrill of entering a dugout on the firing line in France," and he led the way down the spiral staircase, with iron hand rail, walked through a narrow cement-walled approach and opened a door which was lettered "Close the Door."

A frowning and menacing large machine gun confronted us. "That was placed just there," said he, "to remind veterans that war may come again, and that all battles are not yet won." Flanking it was a smaller machine gun, both German weapons captured in bat-

WILL ORGANIZE A FLYING CLUB HERE TONIGHT

A Sierra Madre Flying Club, sponsored by American Legion Post 297 will be organized at the Legion headquarters in the City Hall at 7:30 this evening when members will be enrolled for a cadet course in aviation.

This opportunity to learn flying is open to all young Americans 16 years of age or older who are in good health and the course of instruction will be free. Pilot Don Robertson who is now teaching a class in the Monrovia High School and one at Pasadena Junior College and who also operates a flying field in Monrovia, outlined plans for the local class and flying club at Monday's meeting of the Legion, where he delivered an address urging the importance of young men learning to fly and volunteering his services to assist them.

The Legion appointed a committee to direct organization of the local class. The committee consists of Norman B. Jensen, chairman, Ralph W. Stewart, Charles E. Taylor and H. C. Scott.

MRS. SUSANNAH MILLER IS LAID TO REST HERE

Funeral services for Mrs. Susannah Miller, mother of Mrs. Harry Bourne, and W. J. Miller, were held on Friday from the Bourne home, 119 West Grand View avenue.

The late Mrs. Miller was born December 25th, 1844, in Dublin, Ireland, and had been a resident of Sierra Madre for the past 25 years. Loved by everyone who knew her, her cheerful disposition will be long remembered.

Mrs. Miller is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Bourne, a son William J. Miller, 67 West Highland avenue, a grandson, Al Miller of Alhambra, and a sister, Mrs. H. A. Brown, of Salmon Arm, B. C.

J. W. SMITH, LEADING FIGURE IN COACHELLA VALLEY, HAS PASSED ON

J. W. Smith of Mecca, Calif., brother of J. O. Smith, president of the Sierra Madre School board, passed away at his home last Thursday after a short illness. Mr. Smith suffered a relapse from influenza and pneumonia set in. His passing is deeply felt throughout Coachella Valley, where he is widely known and where he played a prominent part in the development of the date, grapefruit and other industries that have brought the valley to the world's attention. Funeral services were held at Mecca last Saturday.

LIFE OF TIBETANS NO BED OF ROSES SAYS RETURNED TRAVELER

Major W. Cross, engineer and traveler, gave a splendid illustrated lecture to members of the Sierra Madre Forum on Wednesday night, in the Woman's Club house. Major Cross spoke from first hand experience, as he lived among the people of Tibet and Mongolia for nearly thirty years and understands them and their problems as probably but few foreigners ever do.

Life among these people, at an altitude of from fourteen to twenty-two thousand feet is very difficult—climate, lack of vegetation, ridden by the Llamas, or priests, a condition that borders on slavery, seems to be their lot. Major Cross described the Sacred City of Lhasa, its magnificent golden idols of Buddha and the monastery.

STORM LEAVES 4.38 INCHES OF RAIN HERE

It will be partly cloudy for a day or two, but the storm that brought 4.38 inches of rain to Sierra Madre this week is over, Col. H. B. Hersey announced at the U. S. Weather observatory here this morning. It is just possible, the Colonel added, there may be a very light shower or two, but any precipitation that comes along over the week end will be inconsequential. And the temperature will continue moderate. The clouds that tumbled over the mountains this week brought the seasonal rainfall to 11.48 inches, just above the normal, as against 7.28 inches at this date last year. Drenching rains fell throughout the mountain area but on account of the mild weather even in the higher ranges, there was practically no snow.

Thatcher Is Sponsor Of New System

County Will Demand Clean Financial Bill Of Improvement Districts

An A-1 financial standing of the community asking county aid in the carrying through of road projects will be necessary to win the support of County Supervisor Hugh A. Thatcher for such projects. Mr. Thatcher told the San Dimas Chamber of Commerce at a dinner in the Masonic Temple of the Foothill City.

He said the County now finds it impossible to market road bonds affecting various communities because of the orgy of special and overlapping assessments.

There are 15 proposed improvement districts in the county where the brokers have refused to purchase the bonds, which made it imperative with the supervisors to abandon the work. Mr. Thatcher said. As long as he remained upon the board, he declared, there will be no further road districts considered by him until an intensive analysis of the cost and condition financially of the districts is made.

In closing his address he stated that his attitude towards the establishment of a county-owned airport had considerably changed since he had made a study of the situation. "Aviation has come to stay," he said, "and although I have always felt that the cost of terminal facilities should be borne by private capital, I realize that if this cannot be accomplished the county must eventually go into the airport business."

Kiwanis Session Honors Memory Of A Departed Member

Kiwanians from three neighboring cities joined with the members of the Sierra Madre Club Tuesday in honoring the memory of Ray A. Grant, past-president and charter member of the local organization. In the loss of Mr. Grant, known as "Ray" to all of his associates in Kiwanis, the club has lost one of its hardest, most sincere and friendly workers and out of respect to him dispensed with all regular business and dedicated the luncheon hour to his memory.

Rev. A. O. Pritchard called to mind Mr. Grant's sterling qualities as a citizen in the community, his generosity to the poor in his business dealings and his friendliness to all.

Following Rev. Pritchard, Laura E. Cadmus, accompanied by Prof. Gustav Rihder, sang "Beautiful Isle," by Pearis, and later "Going Home" by Anton Dvorak.

Rev. Pritchard read several passages from "Abov Ben Adheim," by Lee Hurst; "L'Envoiy" by Kipling and Bishop William Crosswell Doane's "Interpretation of Death."

WANT CITY DOLLED UP FOR OLYMPIC CROWDS

Every householder in Sierra Madre cutting back their poinsettia plants this Spring is requested to take the cuttings to the City Hall where they will be distributed to townsfolk who wish to help make the city colorful when people all over the world start flocking into Southern California for the Olympic games a year hence. In the hope that Sierra Madre will look most colorful and at its very best when the visitors arrive the Woman's Club is sponsoring the "plant poinsettias" campaign. It hopes to see poinsettias blooming in every yard and garden a year from now—lots of them.

250 Per Cent Gain In Activity Of Realty Here

Sierra Madre showed a big white spot in Los Angeles county real estate activity during December when the to-be-expected holiday slump brought the number of transactions in the county not only below the preceding month, but below the number recorded during November 1929, according to the California Title Insurance company.

In the midst of this general decline Sierra Madre showed a gain of 250 per cent over the transactions recorded during November.

Sixteen deeds, 2 mortgages and 15 trust deeds were filed in December affecting Sierra Madre real estate, compared with 4 deeds, 2 mortgages and 3 trust deeds filed during November.

There were 9 new tracts, containing 159 lots, filed in the County during December, making a total of 191 new subdivisions embracing a total of 10,455 parcels of land opened during the year 1930.

Death Of Ray Grant Brings Sorrow Here

City Shows Its High Regard For Departed Leader In Civic Affairs

Impressive funeral services were conducted at the Congregational Church on Monday by Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard and Rev. William Duncan Ogg for Ray A. Grant, who died Friday at his residence, 201 West Central avenue.

Practically every organization in the city was represented at the services and the church was filled. Members of the Kiwanis Club, of which Mr. Grant was a charter member and past president, attended in a body, as did the Chamber of Commerce, which he served as a director for seven years; the Masonic Lodge and the Eastern Star. The profusion of floral tributes showed the high esteem in which Mr. Grant was held by the community and how it was touched by his passing.

Mrs. Janet Stevenson Wood and Mrs. J. N. Hawks sang two duets, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go," and Mrs. Wood rendered a solo, "Crossing the Bar." Oscar Rasbach accompanied the singing and furnished the music before and after the services.

Mr. Grant was born at Independence, Iowa, September 3, 1881. He moved from Preston, Iowa, to Salem, Ore., in 1905, where he was employed as cashier of the American Railway Express until December 1920, when he moved to San Luis Obispo, Cal., and engaged in the undertaking business. In 1922 he purchased the Allen T. Gay funeral parlors in Sierra Madre, which he conducted up until the time of his death.

He is survived by his wife, Lydia P. Grant, and a daughter, Ruth A. Grant, of this city, and his father, W. L. Grant of Salem, Ore.

Besides being a member of local organizations, he was a member of Salem Lodge No. 50, F.&A.M., Monrovia Royal Arch chapter, Monrovia Commandery and Azusa Council.

The body, accompanied by Mrs. Grant, left Glendale Tuesday evening for interment at Salena Members of the Kiwanis Club, Waverly Pratt, Frank Spencer, Charles Klunk, R. C. Copenhaver, H. Clay Reavis and Dr. J. L. Woehler, acted as pall bearers.

MANY WIN PRIZES AT ST. RITA CARD PARTY

Winners at bridge at the card party held Tuesday evening by the St. Rita Altar Society were Mr. Forbes, who had the highest score, Mrs. R. Solury, Mrs. W. J. Schlitz, Mary Kilgamon, Merle Tanner and Mrs. Gordeau. Prizes awarded for 500 went to Peter Meyers, A. L. Connell, W. Barry, Mrs. Young and Mrs. Wernicke. Consolation prizes were given to Mrs. L. Wynne and Mrs. G. Gerhard. The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. L. Mueller, Mrs. A. Mueller and Mrs. M. Meyers. Mrs. A. Delvecci won the door prize.

A card party will be given in the St. Rita auditorium next Wednesday, February 10, at 8:15 p.m. The hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Meigebauer, Mrs. G. Dolan, Mrs. Otte and Mrs. Kiggins. Refreshments will be served.

BROADCASTING TEAM BOOSTING THIS CITY

Betty Griffith of the team of Betty and Bill Griffith of radio fame, spent last week taking a much needed rest at the Charles Coules cottage at 475 Sturtevant Drive, which Betty and Bill have leased for a long term. She was very much enthused over the climate and beauty of Sierra Madre and Bill broadcasted daily the wonderful improvement in his wife's health and the joy of living in Sierra Madre. "Betty" was loath to return on Monday to the city and to work. Betty and Bill are broadcasters of the Happiness and Prosperity program over KMPC daily between the hours of 11 and 12 noon.

Variety Is Feature Of Art Exhibit

Work Of Women Showing At The "Little Gallery" Pleases Patrons

The exhibiting artists of the present month's showing in the "Little Gallery," at the City Hall, Ruth Larimer and Thelma Paddock Hope, were the honored guests at the reception Monday evening with Mrs. Fred Griebnow, art chairman as hostess, assisted by Mrs. E. E. Bacon, Mrs. Dewey, Mrs. Hawhurst, Mrs. Tuttle and Miss Cadmus.

The exhibit is one of the most interesting that has been presented because of its variety of subjects and the work of two young women painters. The Mexican sketches of Ruth Larimer show more than promising, mastery technique in color and handling while the quiet poetic feeling of the canvas "Evening at the Harbor," a depiction of harbor craft in the Los Angeles harbor is most tellingly portrayed.

Thelma Paddock Hope's display features some large life-size canvases together with some smaller studies of still life, all handled in the more "Modern Manner" of the art student of today. Her "The Graduation Dress," which won first honorable mention at a recent Los Angeles County Fair, dominates the exhibit, the painting of the silken texture of the dress being well rendered. The two murals in design and composition are well done. A canvas titled "This Generation," recently exhibited at the California Art Club attracts much attention as an example of Modernist Art.

Alfred James Dewey is scheduled for an exhibit of etchings at the Beverly Hills Woman's Club in May.

Sierra Madre artists will exhibit during the Wistaria Fete, details of the showing to be announced later.

Ella Shepard Bush, miniaturist, is showing a large triptych of Kate Reynolds Lobingier, well known club woman, at the exhibit of the California Society of Miniature Painters in the Los Angeles Public Library.

Miss Bush's work, for which she has won nation-wide recognition, includes miniatures of Portia Wallace, remembered as a former resident of Sierra Madre, Miss Sylvia Canning and Miss Martha S. Bush. The colorful triptych of Mrs. Lobingier shows all the personal charm and vividness of the subject's personality, so cleverly caught by the painter.

The showing at the library is of the highest order, merit and artistic achievement. Such an exhibit is not to be confused with the so called "miniatures" of fakers produced by mechanical methods of photographic processes.

CELIA TROWBRIDGE, AGED 76, PASSES ON

Mrs. Celia Trowbridge passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Cox, 70 East Montecito avenue, on Wednesday evening after an illness of several months. She was born in Indiana 77 years ago and has been a resident of Sierra Madre for the past eleven years, coming here from Washburn, Mo. Her daughter, Mrs. Cox, is her only surviving relative.

Funeral services are being held today at 2 o'clock from the Ray Grant Funeral Parlor, 201 West Central avenue, with Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard officiating. Mrs. Cox will accompany the body to Washburn, where interment will be held in the family burial plot.

LATEST ARRIVALS WELCOMED TO CITY

Newcomers welcomed to Sierra Madre during the past week are William Summersgill, who has taken up a residence at 318 Montecito avenue, Louise G. Rinehart, 121 South Mountain Trail, H. O. Griffith, 475 Sturtevant drive, and Kate L. DeWitt, 101 South Lima street.

Black faces Frame Gags For Big Show

Lots Of Local Color Will Feature Red Cross Minstrel Wise Cracks

The Red Cross Minstrel Show on February 13th and 14th is going to be one of the outstanding events in Sierra Madre's history of entertainments from all indications. The committee in charge has met with the most wholehearted cooperation from all quarters, according to the chairman, Mrs. J. H. Wright.

She said today, that while this town had always been wonderful about helping in public enterprises, never before had she met with such absolute willingness to anything and everything to make an entertainment a success.

"It is the cause," she said. "Our people can't think of thousands of hungry and cold men and women, and pitiful, starving little children, right here in America, and be fussy about what they do to help. Almost invariably the answer to all our requests has been, 'Surely, I'll do anything you want to help get that money.'"

"We have all kinds of talent in this town and, with that spirit animating our people, you can imagine what a humdinger that show is going to be!"

"It isn't really necessary to talk about the dinner that is to be served each night in the school cafeteria. To say that Mrs. Lees and Mrs. Welsch are in charge with Mrs. Griebnow, Mrs. Roess, Mrs. Shaw and a lot of others assisting, tells a great deal more than all the words I could pile. Hit Scored By Players In Comedy

"Are You A Mason" Production Pronounced Worthy Of Professionals

The term "full house" certainly applied to the performance of "Are You A Mason" at the school auditorium last Friday.

The crowd laughed through three acts of side-splitting complications caused by two men telling their wives they were Masons without attending to the little formality of joining the order. Going to the lodge was a grand excuse to get out nights until some wires got crossed, and then a whole flock of chickens came home to roost.

J. N. Hawks easily carried off first honors. "Jim" has been doing a lot of work with the Community Players of a Pasadena the last few years and the experience has put a smooth finish on an unusual natural ability in acting. He stacks up with professionals.

Mrs. Hawks followed closely in his footsteps and, as Mrs. Bloodgood, was a mother-in-law to make the most ardent suitor count ten before he leaped into matrimony.

There was no gradual rising of a star when Benjamin Stinman walked on the stage as an old time ham actor. He arrived with a crash and every moment he was in action the house rocked. His makeup was nothing short of genius. R. O. Cuykins was convincing as the visitor from the county.

Among the well known local favorites taking part were Mr. and Mrs. Finlayson, Hans Seifert, Guy Rihder, Mrs. Lee High and Mrs. Gay, who all covered themselves with glory.

Three newcomers to Sierra Madre audiences were the Misses Virginia Berry, Catherine Sinnott and Edith Hawks, daughters of Mrs. Bloodgood, who were so very charming that one could easily understand their admirers' braving "Mama." Their work was very smooth and lacked self-consciousness so often evident in first appearances.

Norval MacGregor, director, of course, deserves the greatest share of praise for all the skill and effort that went into shaping so many amateurs into the harmonious whole which would have been most creditable to a professional troupe. The Community Players are very fortunate in being able to call on Mr. MacGregor for such expert coaching.

And last, but not least, the handling of the lighting effects by Rudolph Hartman, and the state set assembly by Mrs. Ralph Stewart, should be counted in when the bouquets are being handed around for every detail of the performance was most creditable and few who were in the big audience are likely to miss future presentations by the players.

Interest Is Growing In Relief Fund

Kiwanis Club First To Register 100 Per Cent For Drought Area Victims

Sierra Madre's group of the 35,000 Red Cross workers who have heeded the call of humanity and are soliciting funds for the Drought Relief Fund to relieve hunger and want in the stricken areas of the Middle West, have notified Red Cross headquarters in Washington that Sierra Madre's quota of $1,500 will be completed by February 15.

The response here to President Hoover's call for help has not been as spontaneous as ordinarily in this community that has rated high in previous Red Cross drives, but directors of the local chapter believe that with the effort now being made to remind Sierra Madreans of the gravity of the situation that they are being called upon to relieve, the allotted amount here will be raised.

The Kiwanis Club yesterday turned over to the Red Cross contributions from its complete membership, registering as the first local organization to contribute 100 per cent to the cause.

The memberships of several other organizations are now being canvassed by their officers and assurance has been given that they will report 100 per cent contributions within a few days.

"While the contributions have not been coming in as fast as might have been expected under the circumstances," said President Humphries of the Red Cross chapter following a meeting of the directors yesterday, "it seems that there has not until recently been a full appreciation of the conditions in the drought stricken area—of the fact that there is widespread and intense suffering, actual hunger to the point of starvation in thousands of homes right in our own land."

"I am confident that our people here in Sierra Madre will not turn a deaf ear to the appeal for help and that a very great majority of them will give something. Dimes and nickles built the Woolworth building and with a small donation from everybody here, our quota will undoubtedly be reached."

Pictures Reveal How Prophecies Are Being Fulfilled

"Palestine today in the Light of Prophecy" is to be the subject of an illustrated lecture at Bethany Church, Baldwin avenue, next Wednesday and Thursday evenings, February 11 and 12, by Rev. Milton B. Lindberg, a missionary just returned from his work in Syria and Palestine.

Rev. Mr. Lindberg and his wife have been in the field during the recent history-making period there which has attracted the eyes of the world upon the country. With the help of intensely interesting and instructive colored pictures he will tell of the customs of the peoples of the Bible lands, what they are doing and how the prophecies have and are being fulfilled.

AUTOMOBILE CRASH IS FATAL TO MAXINE CHAFE

Maxine Chafe, eleven year old granddaughter of George Lehner, 550 West Central avenue, received fatal injuries when the automobile in which she and her mother, Mrs. Ruby Chafe, were riding last Friday in Los Angeles, was struck by another car, the driver of which was intoxicated. The child passed away on Monday at the General Hospital in Los Angeles.

"Anyone not using your medium is overlooking a real opportunity," writes Ben Lyon, of 224 Santa Anita Court, in a letter dated February 3, telling of the results obtained by him through the use of his used car advertisements in THE NEWS.

Further expressing satisfaction with returns his advertising has brought, Mr. Lyon's letter continues:

INDUSTRIAL BUREAU APPRAISES VALUE OF COMMUNITY PAPER

The value to a community and to business of its newspaper is stressed in a booklet just issued by the Manufacturer and Industrial Bureau, which says:

"No branch of general education which reaches the masses of the American people can point to greater achievements than can country journalism. Country papers stand in the front line of defense against schemes that rob the people. They work to encourage industries and payrolls, build up small communities and make more business for everybody."

"The Manufacturer and Industrial Bureau has always preached the advertising value of the smaller city dailies and country weeklies. . . . It emphasizes the fact that a newspaper in a small community is as necessary to the life of that community as the school or the bank. There is no means of reaching these home buyers with a description of the merits of a product or service as directly as through the columns of the local paper, which is intimately connected with all matters affecting the daily life of local citizens, who all read it. Country weeklies and smaller city dailies make

The Sierra Madre News, Sierra Madre, Calif. "Gentlemen: 'Your Here and There' column by H. L. ought to indeed be congratulated upon the courageous expression of a thought that is harbored by a good many of our Sierra Madreans."

"I have lived here for the past two years and have become a property owner because of the sunshine, peace, flowers and trees that nature so lavishly bestowed on Sierra Madre for our happiness and enjoyment not to strive to have a great many more people share this happiness would be quite selfish."

Concerned about its future development Claremont has appointed a commission to study its future water supply. By a vote of 14 to 1 the people of Fullerton voted to join the Metropolitan water district in order to get in on the Colorado river water and assure that city's future.

Decisively beaten twice when the subject was submitted to the voters, 607 citizens of Tujunga have petitioned for a special election to decide whether or not that community shall be annexed to Los Angeles. Tujunga says it pays less taxes than Sunland and gets more for what it does pay.

Puente's Chamber of Commerce has been functioning poorly during the last two years, its membership has dwindled to almost nothing and it became a negligible quantity in the community. But at a meeting last week it was decided to continue the body and put on a membership drive.

Puente's citrus association discovered at its recent annual meeting that its orange crop of 1930 had brought the largest return in the organization's history.

The County Supervisors on Monday refused the petition of citizens of Northern San Gabriel that they be made a part of the San Marino school district. As in the case of Sierra Madre Villa the application was based on the fact that the San Marino school was more convenient. But the San Gabriel directors showed that the school had been designed to care for the children of those who wanted to secede and the supervisors were unanimous in rejecting the petition.

SANTA FE ADDS 400 WORKMEN TO STAFF

The Santa Fe has put approximately 400 men to work since the first of the year laying new rail on its Coast Lines. W. K. Etter, general manager, says. A total of 178 miles of new rail will be laid on the Coast Lines this year, of which 87 miles will be on the Los Angeles division.

Another large force of men is at work completing the installation of automatic signals between Fullerton and San Diego, a project carried over from last year, and a similar force will soon be placed to work installing automatic signals between Mojave and Barstow.

Violation of motor vehicle laws caused fines totaling $548,994 to be imposed in Los Angeles during 1930.

"WHAT EVERY WOMAN KNOWS" OPENS AT THE COMMUNITY THEATRE

Sir James M. Barrie's comedy drama, "What Every Woman Knows," featuring Frances Starr, noted actress, and Harrison Ford, screen star, as guest artists, opened at the Pasadena Community Playhouse last night and will run until February 14.

Samuel S. Hinds remembered for his excellent characterizations in "Shore Acres," "Passing of the Third Floor Back," "The Stranger," and with Paul Muni in "The Man Saul," plays "Alice Wylie." Addison Richards, who played the role of Ambrose Godolphin, KC in "Bird in Hand," is cast as David Wylie. Alice Turner, Madame Vilaine Thatcher, Murray Yeats and Thomas Browne Henry are other players and the extras number twenty.

Frances Starr, whose rare beauty and marvelous artistry has made her a figure of major importance in the history of American drama and of the American stage, plays the role of "Maggie," demure Scots lass of unusual cleverness and force of character. Harrison Ford, whose screen roles opposite Constance and Norma Talmadge, Clara Bow and other feminine stars, won him the title of the great screen lover, plays the role of "John Shand."

A History of Sierra Madre from the files of The NEWS.

FRIDAY, February 7, 1907—

Sierra Madre voted itself into a city at the incorporation election on Saturday, incidentally electing the first board of trustees consisting of J. C. Pegler, J. Kraft, C. W. Jones, E. W. Camp and N. H. Hosmer. J. J. Graham was elected city clerk, L. C. Torrance, treasurer and W. P. Caley, marshal. Great interest was shown in the election and only two eligible voters failed to cast their ballots.

Prof. Seiling's new residence has been completed and will be occupied by the family this week.

FRIDAY, February 6, 1912—The total rainfall here since October 1st was only 1.35 inches, the normal being 13 inches.

Capt. J. A. Osgood is to be the interlocutor at a minstrel and vaudeville show to be presented at the Woman's Clubhouse February 8 and 9.

FRIDAY, February 2, 1917—Donald A. Jackson of this city, died on Thursday in Los Angeles. Edith Blumer and Florence Vannier were hostesses of the Red Cross Ball given at the Woman's Clubhouse on Friday night and that attracted parties from Pasadena, Los Angeles and San Gabriel Valley towns.

FRIDAY, February 3, 1922—Dewitt T. Jones has been elected secretary of the Chamber of Commerce to succeed Mrs. J. H. Wright, resigned.

Harold Thompson, 18 years old, slipped in the heavy snow on the Mt. Wilson trail near Opids Camp on Tuesday and fell to his death in the canyon below. The snow is the heaviest in years and rains in the city brought the seasonal precipitation to 27.57 inches.

FRIDAY, February 4, 1927—March 15 has been fixed as the date for the city hall bond election.

Mrs. A. H. Embree was injured in an automobile accident at Long Beach on Saturday.

up. It won't be a fancy banquet. When you're serving a dinner to raise money for starving people, you don't serve eight courses; but it will be well worth eating—no doubt of that.

Look Out—Local Flavor

"The show? Really now, you don't expect me to tell you all about the show at this stage—it just can't be done with a Minstrel Show. You'll have to be among those present if you want to know the best things that are going to be sprung. In a general way it's this: first half, blackface—regular old time minstrelsy, with this time songs and some very new gags.

"With 24 men in the chorus those songs are going over with a bang. We have some fine solos and the quartette, Messrs. Buchanan, Noshier and Heasley, are there with bells on. And if anybody thinks there is a shortage of clever comedians in this burg, the show will convince him otherwise.

"Jokes? Oh, yes, plenty. Ye-es—some with quite a er—Sierra Madre flavor, so to speak!

"The second half will be vaudeville. One number will be a one-act play directed by Mrs. Milton Steinberger. She hasn't been really chatty about the details, but she laughs every time she speaks of it, so probably no one need be downhearted while that is going on.

All Pepped Up

"There will be some tableaux which are under the direction of Miss Steinberger, Mrs. Ellen Barker and the art teacher at our school, and the school children are helping with those. The musical accompaniment will be by the instrumental trio with Mrs. Randolph Wood as soloist.

"Leslie Gaze has promised a group of songs, and those who have heard him know that number alone will be worth the price of admission.

"Then there will be a little skit—you know, one of those little skits! Local? Why, of course. There was a minstrel show put on here several years ago whose piece de resistance was a skit called "Under the Pepper Tree." Those who saw it still chortle joyously when they speak of it. I was one of the stage hands when that was put on and I feel quite confident the present skit will be just as funny and as great a success.

"The rehearsals are going splendidly. Everybody is enthusiastic and clever ideas pop up every time the gang gets together. This is going to be a real show that you won't forget in a hurry. And don't forget to say that the tickets are on sale now—at Hartman's Drug Store."

Bob Ackley and Graeme Smith returned to the University of Redlands on Monday to begin their second semester.

Luncheon guests of Mrs. George W. Miller of 475 Woodland Drive, at "Lorrols Garden" on Friday were Mrs. W. W. Pritt of Los Angeles, Mrs. W. K. Bowker, of Flintridge and Mrs. C. G. Jepsen of Ocean Park. The Huntington Art Gallery was visited by the party in the afternoon.

The Thursday morning Bible Study class will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Vieira, 487 Woodland Drive, at 9 o'clock, conducted by Rev. William Ogg.

Mrs. D. Vanderpool of 455 Woodland Drive had as luncheon guests on Thursday her mother, Mrs. J. C. Pelton of Glendale, Mrs. Glen Foster and Mrs. Walter Saw of Hollywood, Mrs. J. Stimfling and Mrs. William Butts of Sierra Madre.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Bailey of Long Beach were dinner guests on Friday of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Bailey of the Trail Store.

Mrs. L. Pickett of Hollywood and Mrs. Laura Cline of 429 Sturtevant Drive spent Thursday at Riverside.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Reavis entertained at dinner Sunday for Mr. H. A. Wooding and son Dan of Fontana, Mrs. J. Friesen and daughter Beverly, and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wilson of Bakersfield.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Langon and friends of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. G. Tuncil of Sierra Madre were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jones of Brookside Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holmes and son Norman of Los Angeles were dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. D. Vanderpool.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Richards of Sturtevant Drive entertained Mrs. S. E. Dolan of Bakersfield, mother of Mrs. Richards, last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Jean Courtney, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Slesel and Teck Fisher of Los Angeles were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Pope of 686 Brookside Lane.

Mrs. Lillian Wheeler and her father, E. D. Harrington, and brother E. H. Harrington spent last weekend at the home of Mrs. Mary Marque in Los Angeles while Mrs. Marque and daughters May, Noamie, Corinne and son Tom and friends occupied the Wheeler home on Alta Vista Drive.

Mrs. J. Koors of Minneapolis is occupying Harmony cottage at 429 Sturtevant Drive for a month.

The community luncheon was held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Dewey of Marlborough Terrace last Tuesday. After luncheon tables were set for bridge. Those present were Mrs. Frank Key, and Mrs. Clyde Hoover, of Pasadena; Mrs. James Heasley, Mrs. J. C. Culver, Mrs. George Johnston, Mrs. Myrtle Bradford, Mrs. A. Phelps, Mrs. D. Hawk, Mrs. J. McQuestion, Mrs. W. Pope, Miss Edith Trimble, Mrs. A. J. Dewey Jr., and Mrs. A. J. Dewey Mrs. Culver received the high and Mrs. D. Hawk the low score.

W. L. Larry of Audubon Park drove a party up Mt. Wilson Friday night and says he was more than ever impressed by what the Carnegie Institute offers the public and hopes that both adults and school children will avail themselves of this supreme advantage. Just now with the names Einstein, Millikan and Michaelson so much mentioned is a particularly opportune time to initiate the young people into the subject of astronomy.

The drive up Mt. Wilson is beautiful and not nearly so dangerous as the crowded boulevards below and the lecture and observatory are open free to the public every Friday night.

In the $63,000,000 budgeted by Gov. Rolph for California highway construction during the next two years is an item of $520,000 towards the new road up through the Arroyo Seco from Flintridge and into Azusa. It is estimated the sum will carry the road for five miles beyond Red Box, the divide between the Arroyo Seco and the West Fork of San Gabriel Canyon. Work on the road between Red Box and Flintridge has been in progress for some time.

George E. Hapgood and O. W. Carlson have moved to Templeton, Calif., where they are operating the White City Camp. Templeton is the half way stopping point between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. R. Moore, 689 West Central avenue, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gatter of Oakland, as their dinner guests on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Nestor Young of 209 West Highland avenue, enjoyed a short visit from her cousin, Orrin Burnett Gregory of Spokane, Wash. Before returning home on Tuesday, Mr. Gregory visited the Huntington Library and other interesting places.

Here and There

By H. L.

To whom does Sierra Madre really owe its distinctive isolation that has made possible the much appreciated seclusion of this lovely suburban community? There is only one answer: "Lucky" Baldwin. Whether or not he did it in friendly helpfulness makes no difference at all, for by annexing his adjacent land to Arcadia, he put 800 acres between Sierra Madre and the teeming traffic of Foothill boulevard, and thus saved this city from being commonplace and like every other suburb nearby.

So let's honor the good man who was so "lucky" that he got his name—alho not so christened—and call our main north and south thoroughfare not just "Baldwin Avenue," but "LUCKY" BALDWIN AVENUE. No other town can do it. It is added distinction.

"Lucky" Baldwin Avenue will bring lots of business here when it is part of a straightaway boulevard from the mountains to the sea, as is sure to come about soon. His heirs stand ready to deed the land across the Baldwin Ranch from Foothill Boulevard south to a connection with the short-cut to Long Beach. And Sierra Madre has only three blocks to spend money on in that improvement. The rest is in Arcadia, etc.

'Tis a good idea, and will bring publicity forever. "Lucky" Baldwin Avenue—all spelled out on street signs.

In Stuart, Fla., we call the Legion after a hero who was killed in France in action, who wrote home to Morris Johns, his father, the night before the battle: "I will go as far as any of them tomorrow, Dad."

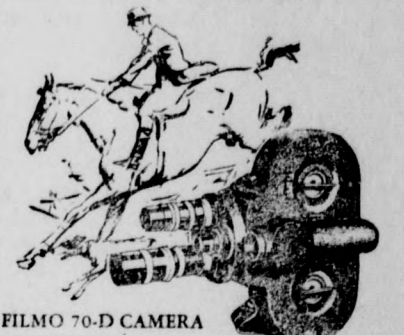

Why not name the Post here after some HERO instead of merely the town, if you have to call it "Admiral Dewey Post" or "Admiral Schley Post." Schley was bereft of his honors by Admiral Sampson, who while in command was not even with his vessel in the action that licked Spain for keeps in July, 1898. My kid brother was there with the Dandy First Volunteer Regiment, of Illinois.

The local Legion has a wonderful headquarters and trophies of the battleship "Maine," sunk by Spaniards in Havana harbor that started the cry "Remember the Maine," and started things off in the public mind. Schley was greater than Dewey—much greater—brave as a lion—yet accused of cowardice by Sampson, who was not even there. Sampson took most of the prize money and Schley won the battle.

I saw Schley's squadron (the White squadron of cruisers and battleships) at a battle-target practice off Cape Charles and Henry, Va., me being on a Savannah to Philadelphia trip, as passenger (only one) on a lumber schooner of small size.

Woman's Club Notes

By MRS. WAVERLY E. PRATT Press Chairman, Woman's Club

ONE of the important club days of the year will be the Reciprocity Breakfast Thursday, February 12, at 11:30. State, district and club presidents will be present for the breakfast program and a tribute will be paid Abraham Lincoln.

The 2:30 program in charge of Laura E. Cadmus will be the "Song of Temptation," a dramatic interpretation of Owen Wister's "Padre Ignacio," by the well known resident artists of Sierra Madre, Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger, reader, and Myrtle McMullen Hill, accompanist.

Mrs. Steinberger is a graduate of the Academy of Dramatic Art in London, who has been awarded the du Maurier prize by J. M. Barrie and the Hineman prize by Sir Squire Bancroft, member of His Majesty's Theatre, under Sir Herbert Tree.

Mrs. Hill, in collaboration with Mrs. Henry Chester Tracy, wrote the original musical setting for the "Song of Temptation." She received her musical training at Oberlin Conservatory and in Chicago and Los Angeles, and is the composer of several art and nature songs.

Reservations for breakfast should be made with Mrs. J. C. Dickson, Red 68, not later than Tuesday, February 10.

MANY ATTEND RECEPTION FOR STATE CHAIRMAN

The Shakespeare Club of Pasadena has issued invitations for a reception and tea Tuesday, February 24th at 1:45 at the club house on North Los Robles, honoring Mrs. William Waller Slayden, president of the California State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Slayden and Mrs. George McClintock will give a talk. Membership cards of members of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club will be honored and a large group from this club will attend.

Favorite Dishes Of Sierra Madreans

AT THE request of a reader for more of Mrs. Harriet Parsons' delicious frozen desserts, her recipe for "Strawberry Surprise," and for "Orange and Banana Meringue Glace" are given herewith. This is the method for "Strawberry Surprise."

Mash two quarts of strawberries (or red raspberries, avocados or most any ripe fruit) to a pulp. Add to them a pint of sugar, a pint of water, juice of two lemons and the unbeaten whites of six eggs. Turn into the freezer and freeze. The turning of the dasher will beat all to a foamy surprise. The quality will be improved if the freezer is carefully packed in salted ice for a couple of hours or more after freezing.

For "orange and banana meringue glace:"

Peel, seed and chop five oranges fine. Cover with two cupsful of sugar. After half an hour peel and chop five or six bananas and stir immediately into the sugared oranges. Add a pint of cold water and unbeaten whites of five eggs. Turn into a freezer and freeze until you have a frozen fruit froth. Like the strawberry surprise it will be improved by careful packing in brine for an hour or two.

EVANGELINE BOOTH TO LECTURE ON THE SHEPHERD Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army will give her address "The Shepherd," in the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, February 22, at 8 p.m.

Commander Booth has given this address all over the world and will give it here in costume. There will also be a musical program. Everyone is welcome and admission is free but reservations must be made through the Salvation Army Headquarters, 832 West 9th street, Los Angeles.

MRS. MANCHESTER "TURNS PAGES" OF RECENT BOOKS The book review section with Mrs. George F. Blakeslee chairman, met Wednesday morning at the clubhouse for monthly book reviews.

In her discussion which she calls "Turning the Pages," Mrs. O. B. Manchester gave some time to Wiggins' "The Marks of an Educated Man," which she reviewed chapter by chapter, each of which contains some trait of an educated man.

Other books discussed were Beard's "Realism in Romantic Japan," Colum's "Orpheus, Myths of the World," Stoney and Shelley's "Po' Buckra" and "The Bitter Tea of General Yen," by Stone, together with leading magazine articles and current events.

The public affairs section met with Mrs. J. W. Lawless, chairman, preceding the book review section, for review of work being done by the Legislature in the way of water conservation, child welfare and taxation.

CLUB NOTES

Those wishing to attend the President's Council at Highland Park, February 11, at 10 a.m., phone Mrs. John H. Robertson or Mrs. E. E. Bacon.

The Garden Section met Monday in the Osgood Room at which time there was an interesting study and discussion of "Roses," under the leadership of Mary Potter, chairman.

When you cut your poinsettia plants back, take the cuttings to the City Hall where they may be distributed for planting to citizens who want to help make the City colorful—more beautiful—for the admiration of the Olympic games world visitors next year.

The Wistaria committee urgently requests that those about to trim their date palms, please wait a few weeks as palm leaves are to be used in the decorative scheme for the Wistaria Fete, and will be collected by the city. Further announcements later.

THE MEISTERSINGER AT VALLEY OPERA CLUB

The Opera Reading Club of San Gabriel Valley will present "The Meistersinger" on Saturday, February 7, at 10 a.m. in the Monrovia Woman's Club. As usual F. Vance Evans will give the analysis, with Mrs. Peck accompanying. Ivan Edwards will sing the role of Walther, Louis Conrill that of Hans Sachs, while the part of Eva will be sung by Nelle Gothold.

The P.T.A. of the Woodrow Wilson Junior high school is entertaining the faculty at dinner next Thursday evening, February 12, in the Woodrow Wilson cafeteria.

In A Social Way

Mr. and Mrs. D. Krier of 27 North Auburn avenue, entertained at dinner on Sunday Frank Niemeyer of El Kader, Ia., Helen Niemeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan and Angela Natham of Hollywood.

Mrs. Mary Lewis of 153 North Lima street, entertained Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Erickson of Los Angeles, on Sunday.

Mrs. Milford Thompson of 40 South Hermosa avenue entertained with a beautifully appointed luncheon last week for Mrs. Bennett Hinkley, Mrs. H. B. Ayers and Mrs. Nestor Young.

Misses Margaret, Dorothy and Kathleen Moote were hostesses at luncheon on Saturday, honoring the birthday of Doris Bayard of 305 East Laurel avenue. Miss Bayard was the first girl born in Sierra Madre after it was incorporated as a city in 1907. At that time there was no street car service and transportation was mostly by horse and buggy.

DATE FOR MEETING OF PRISCILLAS IS CHANGED The Priscillas will be entertained at the home of Mrs. R. S. Corlett, 65 E. Mira Monte with Mrs. Burbank as co-hostess on Wednesday afternoon, February 11th. The change of date was made due to Reciprocity Day on Thursday at the Woman's Clubhouse.

A Parent-Education Class is held every Thursday from 10 a.m. to 12 o'clock noon at the Woodrow Wilson Junior High school. Mrs. Walter Stevenson is in charge of these classes.

Officers for 1931 were elected at the annual meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Temple Beth Israel of Sierra Madre held on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. B. H. Schwartz, 431 East Montecito avenue. Mrs. J. S. Webber was elected the new president, Mrs. B. Solnit vice-president, Mrs. B. Shwartz secretary and Mrs. R. A. Ashkenas, treasurer. The new officers will be installed early in March.

Legion Visitors Here Get A Thrill

flit quickly. It seemed to be notice to "Remember the Maine," which was the rallying cry for American volunteers.

Found on Battle Front
Elsewhere in the hall, the fighting face of Theodore Roosevelt looked out of its heavy frame and called up visions of San Juan Hill and the siege of San Juan. He gallantly led the Rough Riders as their adored Colonel and he loved his men. Roosevelt's "round robin" protest might have ended the military career of a lesser man or one lacking his proven high character. It brought the winning, fever-stricken survivors home from Cuba.

There is quite an impressive collection of French and also of German rifles that were abandoned in action and picked up on the battlefields of France.

General Grant's benign countenance is decorated in a striking manner by delicate wood carving surrounding the picture underneath the glass and inside the frame. It is all the jack-knife work of a Civil war veteran, who spent many hours on the design. Interwoven in wood is the lettering: "Our Commander, U. S. Grant," and it is truly a work of art in wood-carving, besides attesting deep affection of man to officer.

Posters from all the allied nations adorn the wall, one in particular, framed and labelled, is a tribute from the present head of the local Red Cross. Others, while not such triumphs of the printing art, nevertheless carry one back to the scenes of preparation and the raising of a war chest through the sale of Liberty Bonds.

Legion is Prepared
Other souvenirs are American, French and German steel helmets, bayonets, etc., and there is a piece of one of the timbers used in the original construction of the White House, home of Presidents, at Washington, D.C. It was a part of the building for 112 years.

"Here's our rifle range," said Commander Fleming, pushing aside a heavy curtain, where we shoot pistols and rifles, mostly .22 calibre, but sometimes .38's. We have an aerial carrier for our targets, and are even now readjusting the lighting again in order to improve the shooting of all our members."

The Legion has seen war and will not be caught napping should Uncle Sam need his nephews again. Meanwhile all is not warlike at Post headquarters. There is a library, a lunch counter, two pool and one billiard tables and plenty of chairs. True wherever one looks he sees flags. "Old Glory" is a beautiful and revered banner in the eyes of Legionnaires, and is saluted at all official meetings. There is a fine piano.

"Certainly," said Mr. Fleming, "all eligible here should join although 80 members which we have now is a good showing. We need the few not already enrolled, however, and they will be welcomed and will enjoy the social and business meetings. Our light meals here are mighty fine and sometimes we have chicken dinners. And the ladies attend them and everybody gets acquainted. We are all equal now in rank, and we are all accorded the same treatment."

Mary Shapiro, daughter of Mrs. H. Shapiro, of 170 North Adams street, is spending her vacation with her mother. Miss Shapiro is a student at the University of California at Westwood.

Margaret Moote has returned to Whittier College after the mid-winter vacation.

IN YOUR GARDEN

OW, when it is planting time in California and we are all planning and digging in anticipation of the joy we will have when the seeds and plants we are putting into the ground shall bloom, it is well to think of the perennial border. A well balanced, properly arranged border of perennials is the greatest satisfaction of the home gardener and properly planted and cared for will be colorful and supply Sierra Madreans with an abundance of cut flowers during all of the year.

Perennials are usually defined as plants which live year after year. This definition is somewhat upset in a subtropical climate, or at least one might be easily misled by it. Best results are obtained the first two or three years of a perennial growth, and some plants that are considered perennials should be treated as annuals of the maximum flowering results are to be obtained.

Delphinium, for instance, is a perennial, but the finest bloom is usually obtained during the first and second year's growth. After that the plants may become diseased or they may begin to deteriorate. It is well so consider perennials with the expectation of sowing new seed to replace the old plants after the second or third year.

Seed for perennials should be planted in the fall or early winter, but the young plants may be had very cheaply if you neglected to plant your own seed. The young plants can go into the ground at any time now and will bloom this Spring and Summer. Plants grown from seed in flats should not be left in them too long to grow tall or woody.

In sowing the seeds of perennials they should be covered with a high material and to a depth of about twice or three times the breadth of the seed itself. The seeds of those perennials to be sown in flats or beds in the fall of the year include Aquilegia or Columbine (the varieties preferred being the Long-Spurred Hybrids); Carnations, Coreopsis, Delphiniums, Gaillardias, Gerberas, Hollyhocks, Pentstemons, Perennial Poppies, etc.

In choosing perennials to grow it is well to consider the requirements of your garden. Place the tall plants in the background, medium and dwarf plants in the foreground to give a pleasing balance and all possible color.

From the azure of the sky to the deep blues of the ocean depths, is the range of blue in delphiniums or perennial Larkspurs. They are one of the most satisfactory flowers for a hardy border. Their tall, stately spikes lead a majestic background to any garden, and for cutting purposes their beauty is undeniable.

Delphiniums like full sun, a good deep soil, with plenty of humus. A little lime cultivated into the soil will be beneficial, and since they are somewhat susceptible to crown-rot, they should be sprayed occasionally with Bordeaux Mixture, pouring some of the solution around the crown of the plant to soak down to the roots. Do not allow seed pods to form, as this shortens the blooming season. When a stalk is finished blooming it should be cut back to within a few inches of the ground, to make room for new blooming stalks.

In her delightful book "Color in My Garden," Louise Beebe Wilder remarks: "I have never seen Delphiniums poorly placed; they seem so to grace every situation, as to make harmony inevitable."

Fire Flames

By one of the boys

IT HAS BEEN NOTICED of late that Roy Walsworth and Frank Lovell are almost inseparable—at least to the extent that they have developed the appropriate appellation, "The Simonize Twins." This name is applicable because of their shining qualities, particularly among the ladies. These two industrious young men have determined to give chase to George Norris' reputation, as the departments most handsome cavalier. Aside from this, they are nearly normal.

As social entertainers, these fellows are roaring lions. Just recently they were called upon to sing a duet at the Wednesday evening, Saturday night Club party and as they sang, it sounded like the "Patriotic Order of Public People" singing "The Star Spangled Banner." They didn't know the words.

It won't be so very, very long until election time will be here and a good time is looked forward to by all, although there is not to be much change in local government.

The quarrel in Congress over the Red Cross appropriation seems to have effected people as far West as Sierra Madre, according to the time it is taking to raise $1500, which kind of goes to show that the people who are really "broke" now, must support a lot of these things.

"The fool and his money are soon parted," but we have at last come to a realization that fools in this respect are an essential.

Returning suddenly to the boys, we are reminded of a story on Guy Scott and Bob Babbitt. Bob had parked himself in the back seat of the police car as Scott awaited for any emergency call to come at any time. Accompanying Bob was a big airdale pup that occupied nine-tenths of the seat. Scott had been telling Bob that they were on the lookout for a bunch of bad gun men and that if they came toward Sierra Madre they were not to be fooled with, as they were desperate men. As Bob sat listening to this modern novel story, the telephone in the city hall rang and Scott answered the call. With a rush, he returned to the car and before Bob could escape, he was off to the west end of town. 'Twas mighty dark out there and Bob's teeth not only whistled, but they chattered and as Mr. Evans stuck his head in the car to tell Scott that a street light was out, they found that Bob had "gone" out" too. Although unconscious, he still whistled through his teeth. FIRE'S OUT.

PROPER REFRIGERATION IMPROVES FOODS ... Winter or Summer

MANY OF our most pleasing foods are far more appetizing if they pass through a period of proper refrigeration before we eat them. Meats are tenderer, vegetables are crisper and of better flavor, milk is sweeter for a period of properly regulated refrigeration.

This is true in Winter as well as Summer. The "cooler" is not to be trusted in a land where noon temperatures rise well above the 50-degree Danger-Line every day in the year. It is best to keep refrigeration, either ice or electrical, on the job, every day. Proper cooling costs less in Winter than in Summer. But it is equally important, and this is the more reason why we should stay good friends with our refrigerator, all Winter long.

California's tax of 3 cents a gallon on gasoline yielded $39,666,028.54 in 1930, a gain of $2,441,920.60 or 6.5 per cent over 1929—an average of about $200,000 a month. The report, just completed by the Board of Equalization, is based on production rather than sales, with an allowance of one percent for shrinkage. The allotment to the counties and the amount that will be retained by the state for road building has not yet been computed.

Mrs. Mattie Chamberlain of Hollywood, was the house guest of Mrs. Evelyn Jones, 196 Santa Anita court, for five days this week.

Missionary Here
On Furlough Will Deliver Address

Dr. Lloyd L. Loober of Malibu, South India, who is on furlough, will be the preacher at the Congregational Church at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Dr. Loober is a native of Southern California and an alumnus of Pomona College, but soon after graduation he went to the foreign field under the auspices of the American Board.

His work has been in South India with headquarters at the city of Madura and he has been very active in the work of the United Church of India.

His first hand acquaintance with the religious life of that here last summer by the Pasadena Elks Band have visions of more evenings of musical joy in store for the city. For Mr. Bond is director of the famous Crown City aggregation of players and is very well known to many residents of the community.

The Bond family will take up its residence here February 16 and will be followed shortly afterward by R. H. Bush, a teacher of manual training in the Pasadena City Schools and Mrs. Bush, daughter and son-in-law of Mr. Bond, and their 6-year old son, David. Robert W. Bond, a married son, and his family, is expected to come here later. A daughter, Florence, will come here with the family.

Formal announcement of Mr. Bond's appointment as director of the Sierra Madre Funeral Chapel is published elsewhere in this issue of THE NEWS. He has had many years experience in his chosen work both in this country and in Honolulu, where he was located for a number of years.

country, and the present interest in its great social problems will combine to make a very informing and inspiring address. His theme is "Cooperating in India." "And a Little Child" will be the subject of the evening picture service at the church.

BETHANY MISSIONARY SOCIETY TO CELEBRATE

George Jackson of Venezuela, spoke at the Bethany Missionary Society meeting on Tuesday on the "Orinoco River Mission Work." Mr. and Mrs. Roe, who have recently returned from Chefoo, China, where they have been engaged in missionary work for 32 years, were guests. Eight ladies were present at the birthday table.

The Society had 128 members up to the first of the year and more are being added at each meeting.

Its ninth birthday will be celebrated next month and a special party will be held.

Mrs. Carl Pohl of Los Angeles, entertained Mrs. Gertrude Karpnopp and her sister, Mrs. John Harter, last Friday at a formal dinner party.

NEW OWNERS TAKE OVER DECORATING BUSINESS
Bob and Bill Summersgill have taken over the general decorating, painting and paperhanging business formerly conducted by George E. Hapgood and O. W. Carlson. Since selling their interest in the decorating business Hapgood and Carlson have taken over a tourists camp at Templeton. The Summersgills are men of long experience in their line of work and announce that a guarantee goes with every job given their care.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Edwards receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter this morning; mother and baby are doing well.
